

NEW ORLEANS PUTS IN EXPOSITION BID

Louisiana Legislature Makes Brave Show.

PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION

Gov. Sanders and Notable Delegation Given Hearing Before House Committee—Strong Arguments for the South-California, Aroused, Makes Counter Plan.

Headed by Gov. Sanders and Mayor Behrman, of New Orleans, the entire State legislature of Louisiana appeared yesterday before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs urging the claim of New Orleans to the Panama Canal Exposition.

Arguments in support of the gulf port were made by some of the best-known orators of the South, representatives from Mobile, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; and Chattanooga, Tenn., adding their voices to the chorus of enthusiasm.

The distinguished party from far Dixie arrived at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning in a special train in two sections. A dozen great sight-seeing autos were waiting for them at Union Station, and the whole party, 177 in number, were whirled to the New Willard for breakfast.

The hearing began at 10 o'clock. Chairman Foster presiding. The committee was duly impressed. It was the first time that the legislature of a State had appeared before a committee of Congress.
The members of the legislature filled to overflowing the big hearing hall in the House office building.

New Orleans the Logical Point.
Representatives from California were present to look out for the interests of San Francisco, the hearing being in opposition to a resolution which would commit the government to that city.

When the committee had assembled, Representative Estepinal, of Louisiana, introduced Gov. Sanders.

He traced the history of the exposition movement from its inception in New Orleans in 1897 to the present time. He said that the proper way to celebrate the opening of the canal was by an exposition, and the place to hold the exposition New Orleans, four and half days' sail from Panama. He said that while Louisiana did not attack San Francisco, or any other city, he submitted the proposition that New Orleans was the logical point for the exposition. San Francisco had no claim from a geographical standpoint, being as far from the canal as the Cape Verde Islands, off the coast of Africa.

He spoke at length of the commercial position of New Orleans with regard to Central and American trade, impressing upon the committee the importance of this phase of the exposition question. The committee was impressed with the Governor's statement that Louisiana was levying a special tax of $40,000 for the exposition. In reply to a question by Representative Garner, of Texas, a member of the committee, the Governor said:

Thinks Congress Will Help.
"We are not here to ask an appropriation from Congress, but for a location. But my belief is that when the time comes Congress will help the fair in whatever city it is held."

San Francisco has claimed that she will not ask a single dollar of Congress for the exposition. It was evident that the Louisiana delegation does not believe this statement is made in entire good faith. New Orleans frankly expects a federal appropriation. Governor Sanders reminded the committee of this connection that there is still a bill now before the House appropriating $5,000,000 for the San Francisco exposition.

Representative Kahn, of California, hastened to interject a statement that he would withdraw that bill. This caused laughter in the Louisiana ranks, and even the committee smiled broadly.

"If Congress is going to throw the burden of the exposition on any one State," said Gov. Sanders, amid applause, "then we say that our shoulders, pluses, are just as broad as any other's, and we are able to stand it. We are used to bearing burdens. We have spent millions to keep the waters from twenty-one of our States off our lands."

Ready to Come Any Time.
Gov. Sanders said that any time the committee wanted to hear the Louisiana legislature, it would adjourn, board a train, and come to Washington.

"We are ready in earnest," he said.
"Of course, it is easy for us to come to Washington, for we are right at your door. Of course, that can't be said of San Francisco."

Representative Butler Ames, of Massachusetts, a member of the committee, entered the debate. This gave Gov.
Sanders opportunity to remind him that Massachusetts is very near New Orleans.
"Some of my ascendants have made the trip," remarked Congressman Ames, dry-

GET BUSY.

The world rolls on, from day to day, and idle men are in the way; the loafing graft will never pay; get busy, then, get busy!
The man who loiters in the shade to watch the busy men's parade will find his hopes of fortune fade; get busy, then, get busy!
If you in feeble style depend upon assistance from a friend you're sure to fail before the end—get busy, then, get busy! Make up your mind that you will pack your burden on your own broad back, and, brave and buoyant, hit the track—get busy, then, get busy!
Just feel that you're of equal worth with any doggone man on earth, regardless of his age or birth; get busy, then, get busy!
And, having made your mind up quite, show by your acts that you are right! Cut grass, cut grass, by day and night! Get busy, O get busy!

(Copyright, 1910, by George Matthew Adams.)

HERE FROM NEW ORLEANS.

COL. T. P. THOMPSON, Chairman New Orleans committee.

ly, Mr. Ames is a grandson of Gen.
Ben Butler. The point was appreciated.
Mr. Ames created enthusiasm by remarking that because of the United Fruit Company connection between Boston and New Orleans he was being deluged with telegrams from Massachusetts urging him to vote for New Orleans.

Major Behrman, of New Orleans, followed after which Lieut. Gov. Lam-brent and H. Garland Dupre, speaker of the Louisiana house of representatives, spoke. L. E. Bentley, a New Orleans business man, made a lengthy argument.

Plea for the South.
Judge Winship, representing the chamber of commerce of Atlanta, and Mayor Thompson, of Chattanooga, spoke in favor of New Orleans.

"The South hasn't had time since the war to do anything but to get on its feet," said the latter. "We want the exposition in New Orleans so that the whole world will be able to see what the South has accomplished since reconstruction."

By this time New Orleans had put up such a strong case that Representative Kahn, of California, asked to be heard.
Mayor McCarthy also spoke in favor of San Francisco.

Shortly before 1 o'clock the entire Louisiana party entered automobiles and went to the navy yard, where they took the U. S. Dolphin and made a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon. Gov. Sanders laid a wreath, typical of the Pelican State, upon the tomb of Washington.

This morning there will be a hearing before the Senate Committee on Expositions. This afternoon the President and Mrs. Taft will entertain the delegation at a reception, at fresco, on the White House lawns.

The party will remain here until tomorrow, when it is thought it will go to New York to carry the exposition boom into the North. Mayor Gaynor has extended a welcome to the party.

Toy Spaniel an Old Breed.
From Bk and Spn.

The English toy spaniel is undoubtedly one of the oldest and most popular breeds of pet dogs known. As far back as the days of Charles the Martyr this breed was much prized by the ladies of the court. In the narrative of the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, indorsed in Lord Burghley's hand and forwarded to the court, it was recorded that one of the executioners found her little pet (a spaniel of practically the same type as those afterward known in the reign of Charles II., which had crept under the folds of her garments to be near her, and which would not be taken away.

The Kindergarten Method.
From Everybody's Magazine.

"That's right," said the teacher encouragingly to the very small boy who was laboriously learning his A B C's.
"Now, what comes after G?"

"Whiz."

LOUISIANA HOST VISITS MT. VERNON

Continued from Page One.

Committee on Foreign Affairs, and in that two hours the delegates are reported to have made a good impression on the lawmakers.

From the Capitol the delegation was conveyed to the navy yard. The party will be as busy to-day as they were yesterday. They will be received by the President and Mrs. Taft on the White House lawn if the weather is favorable.

Members of the Party.

The following is a list of the members of the delegation:
Gov. J. Y. Sanders, Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Lamb-mont, Mayor Martin Behrman, Speaker H. Garland Dupre, A. M. Smith, State auditor.
State Senators—M. St. Fort, C. E. Fredericks, R.
C. Colquhoun, R. M. McDouglough, J. S. Brady, Charles McVea, E. B. Watson, E. L. Irwin, R. H.
Odum, L. J. Smart, T. W. Perrin, Martin Glynn, Homer Barousse, W. B. Boz, Walter Labbe, M.
A. Combs, J. S. Setton, Robert O'Connor, Harry L. Hardman, J. J. Davis, and T. J. Labbe.

All the members of the lower house of the State legislature.
Business and professional men—Col. T. P. Thompson, Mrs. Thompson, Col. Joseph L. Wright, Mrs.
Wright, Henry McCall, L. E. Bentley, Pearl Wright, Robert Ewing, Sam Blum, E. A. Parsons, Louis P. Rice, J. B. Simon, Leo C. Simon, H. J.
Harvey, J. H. Williamson, Marshall Ballard, J.
Walter Ross, H. G. Dubouché, Charles P. Johnson, H. H. Reed, Louis Krower, Mrs. Krower, Paul F. Jahnke, Paul O. Moss, D. C. Bentley, E.
Ber, Ben Bekman, V. O. Wogan, J. K. Ridgely, G. L. Lazard, Capt. Ben Miller, Lawrence Philip, J. C. Lazard, Ben C. Cassin, P.
Brookridge, Maurice Stern, Mrs. and Miss Stern, John G. Blake, Emily V. Stier, Hunter C. Lowe, Edwin Lamberton, A. A. Fred, Otto F. Wiedel, B. Williams, H. J. Clark, William Allen, Peter Faber, Theodore Gruenwald, Lele Saxon, and Otto Maier.

PROGRAMME TO-DAY.

8 a. m.—Entire party breakfast at New Willard.
9:30 a. m.—Entire party assemble at entrance of the Senate office building to proceed in a body to the committee room.
10:30 a. m.—Hearing before committee on Industrial Expositions.
12:30 p. m.—Auto convey party to Willard for lunch.
2 to 4 p. m.—Auto sightseeing trip around Washington.
5 to 7 p. m.—The President and Mrs. Taft will receive entire party at an al fresco reception, White House Grounds.

DELEGATION'S BUSY MAN

IS PRESS AGENT BLUM.

The busiest man in all the busy New Orleans delegation is Sam Blum, chairman of their publicity committee.

Mr. Blum, when not promoting world's fairs, is a prosperous New Orleans merchant; but when three weeks ago he was told to boom his town for the Panama Exposition, he dropped his personal business, and hasn't slept since for working.

Within a week he had 250,000 letters in the mail, all personal ones, too. Not a governor, banker, mayor, sheriff, or editor from Boston to Los Angeles but what received a communication from this energetic publicity man. And all this has been merely a side issue to the immense amount of newspaper advertising Mr.
Blum set in motion.

"He's a wonder!" is the universal exclamation of all his brother delegates when Mr. Blum's name is mentioned.

In this work he has been ably seconded by Emily Stier, secretary of the committee, an old newspaper man of the Crescent City. Working in double harness night and day for the past month, they have left no stone unturned to make a possible chance to boost their town for the big fair. There is nothing uncertain about these enterprising Southerners. They already see the exposition in full blast.

"Why, it just can't be otherwise," vehemently exclaimed Mr. Blum at his hotel last evening, when a hint was dropped that San Francisco might have a look-in. "New Orleans is the 'logical point,' and Americans are always logical, you know. We are on the biggest river in the world, situated at the door of the richest markets in the world. We can land the nations of the world, and we are within 1,500 miles of 50,000,000 people on this continent. We are equidistant from everything—North, South, East, and West, and—"

"And the sky," put in Mr. Stier, enthusiastically, "comes down equidistant on all sides of New Orleans."

CONGRESS MAY NOT ACT.

Panama Exposition Committee Is Working with Individuals.

At a meeting of the joint committee of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce, charged with considering the feasibility of the Panama Canal celebration in Washington, yesterday, no definite action was taken.

In a statement issued by the chairman of the committee, it was set forth that its members are satisfied from information received at the Capitol that no action will be taken upon the matter at this session of Congress.

Each member of the committee is at work with the members of the House and Senate seeking favorable action on the resolution introduced in the House by Representative J. Hampton Moore and in the Senate by Senator J. H. Gallinger.

Individual conferences are being held with Senators and Representatives, and the committee sees no necessity at this time for public hearings.

The committee seems satisfied that when Congress acts on the matter of a celebration the claims of the National Capital will be fully recognized.

Took a Rise Out of Him.

From Comic Out.

Coast Guard—Yes, they raise all their own vegetables on that light-house.
Tripper—Dear me! How do they manage to do that?

Coast Guard—With a rope!

Sightseeing.

From Success Magazine.

On a visit to his grandmother, Harry examined her handsome furniture with interest and then asked: "Grandma, where is the miserable table that papa says you always keep?"

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Believing Was Seeing.
Curiously enough, Dr. Max Wolf, of Heldberg, to whom astronomy owes the discovery, by aid of photography, of thirty-six new asteroids, has himself never seen a single one of these little planets. Here we have the instance of an astronomer who has only looked upon the images of the stars discovered by him, leaving to other "searchers of the sky" the pleasure of viewing them through telescopes.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

CAMBRIDGE GIVES ROOSEVELT TITLE

Teddy Bear Plays Mirthful Part in Ceremony.

COLLEGE SOCIETY ADDRESSED

Former President Tells Men Who Honor Him with Admission to Membership, to Do Their Utmost with the Qualities They Possess.
Will Be Guest of Journalists.

Cambridge, England, May 26.—Col.
Roosevelt arrived this morning for his visit to the university, which was to confer an honorary degree on him. He came on an ordinary train and was met at the station by a crowd of students and townspeople.

The Chancellor Canon Mason, master of Pembroke College, met the colonel and drove him and his party to Pembroke Lodge, where he will remain during his visit. A few minutes later the colonel drove to Emmanuel College, whence John Harvard went to the United States, and inspected the Harvard memorial stained glass window.

Shortly before 3 o'clock the colonel walked in the vice chancellor's procession the short distance from the lodge to the senate house. First came two vice chancellors and officers in black capes and gowns and college caps, carrying their silver maces. Then came Vice Chancellor Mason and the colonel, walking side by side. The vice chancellor wore a scarlet gown and a large ermine cloak. The colonel wore the scarlet gown of a doctor of laws and a black velvet hood. Behind them followed the public orator in a scarlet gown.

Cheered Before Ceremony.

In the senate house, the undergraduates had filled the galleries, while the graduates and ladies occupied the auditorium. The undergraduates cheered loudly as the colonel walked with the vice chancellor to the dais. He signed the university register and then took a seat in the auditorium. The public orator delivered a glowing eulogy in Latin of the colonel, who, in the meantime, had been conducted by the macebearers in front of the vice chancellor, who remained seated while the colonel stood.

At the end of the oration, the vice chancellor arose and admitted the colonel into the doctrate of laws in a few Latin words. The undergraduates yelled "Speech" as the colonel took his seat at the right of the chancellor.

Loud cries for a speech from Col.
Roosevelt again resounded from the undergraduates in the gallery. The colonel, however, manfully resisted and followed the vice chancellor down the senate gallery.

Teddy Bear Causes Mirth.

Then the undergraduates let down a Teddy bear from the gallery over the colonel's head. Col. Roosevelt, amid great laughter, grabbed the trophy, but the wire held good, and to cheers and laughter Cambridge's latest doctor left the senate house.

Col. Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to take supper in London with the American journalists who have accompanied him on his tour. The supper will be given at the Institute of Journalists on June 8. It was the ambition of the institute to organize a reception on the lines of the Grildiron Club at Washington, but the death of King Edward upset these plans, and an ordinary supper party has been substituted. Later on, the colonel spoke for half an hour in the debating hall of the Cambridge Union, a society in which he received honorary membership. He urged his hearers to do their utmost with the qualities they possessed.
He told them that it was not genius, extraordinary facility or acuteness of intellect that was important, but the humdrum virtues whose sum formed character. "Real success in life," he said, "does not depend upon the place you hold, but upon how you have handled yourself in that place."

WESTMINSTER.

How Expenses of Restoring the Abbey Have Been Met.

From the Church Family Newspaper.

The work of keeping Westminster Abbey in repair is a very onerous and delicate one and the long line of surveyors of the fabric is a distinguished one indeed. During the last seventy years this matchless church has been in the hands of Mr. Blom, Sir Gilbert Scott, Mr.
Pearson, Mr. Michaelhouse and now Prof. Lethaby.

There have been times in the history of the abbey when its very existence has been in jeopardy. The first of these occurred about the end of the seventeenth century. Sir Christopher Wren was called in and the work of restoration was carried out with the utmost zeal and thoroughness, though in many of its details its taste was open to much question.

When the late Dean Bradley arrived upon the scene in the year 1852 he found an income derived largely from agricultural estates steadily declining in value, while the condition of many of the great flying buttresses as well as the north transept was indescribable. The late dean himself was wont frequently to describe the north transept when he first inspected it as presenting almost the appearance of a quarry.

It was time for extreme measures, and that the situation was saved at all was due to the vigor and the business acumen of the late dean. As it was, the abbey had to pay a fearful price. A loan of $15,000 was made to the dean and chapter by the ecclesiastical commissioners. This enabled the authorities to get level with the worst of these structural defects. On the other hand, they were compelled to suspend the sixth canonry the income derivable from which has been employed for many years past in gradually paying off the immense loan.

Believing Was Seeing.

Curiously enough, Dr. Max Wolf, of Heldberg, to whom astronomy owes the
discovery, by aid of photography, of
thirty-six new asteroids, has himself
never seen a single one of these little planets. Here we have the instance of
an astronomer who has only looked upon
the images of the stars discovered by
him, leaving to other "searchers of the
sky" the pleasure of viewing them
through telescopes.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

From the Boston Transcript.

Plint—Have you any divine healers out
you way, old man?

Flyte—Have we? Say, there's a young woman doctor next house that's a peach-
erino.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

The Muskoka Lakes and Islands of Georgian Bay

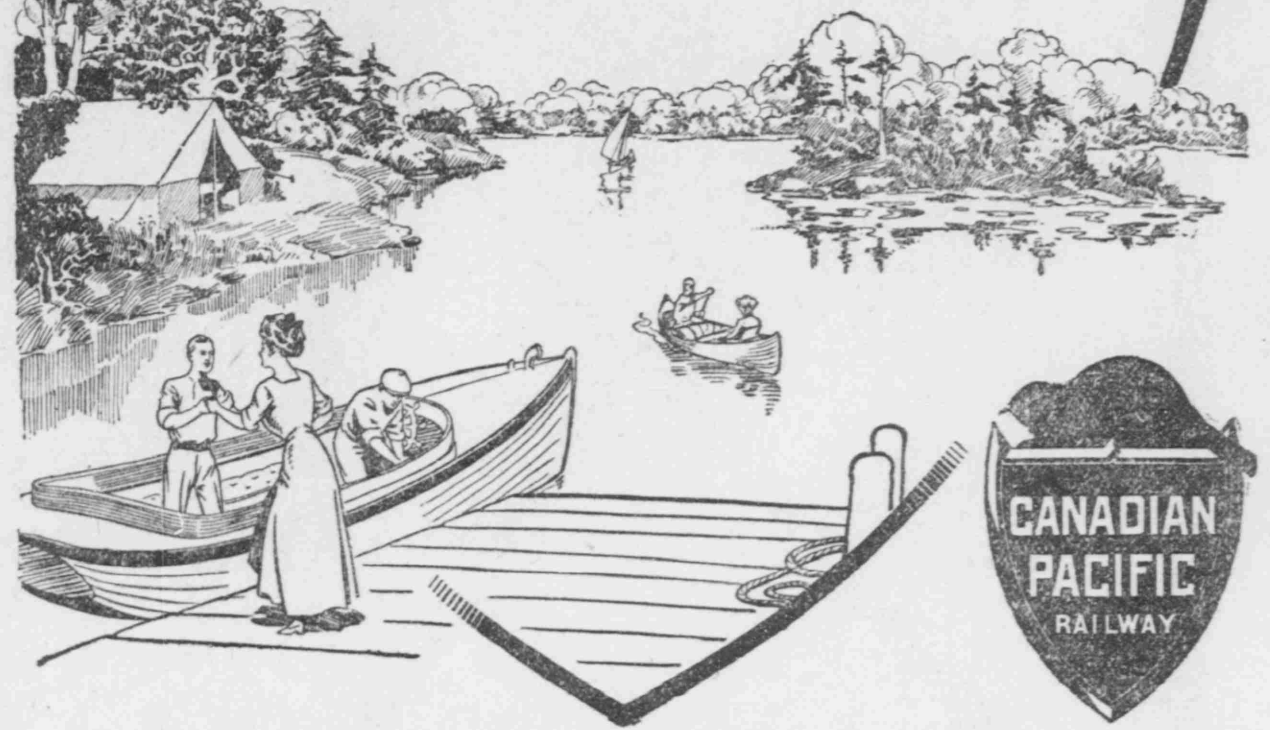

The Muskoka Lakes, 125 miles north of Toronto, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the Islands of Georgian Bay are ideal locations for a summer vacation. These charming lakes and thousands of wooded islands are a veritable paradise for those who camp, fish, paddle, motor or sail.

Excellent hotels for those who prefer hotel life and a fleet of fast steamboats running to all points of interest. No place on the American continent offers so much to the summer vacationist.

Write or call for our Booklet, "The Muskoka Lakes and Georgian Bay."

ALLEN CAMERON,
General Traffic Agent, 428 Broadway and 281 Fifth Ave.
New York.

E. P. ALLEN, C. P. & F. A., Bond Building,
14th St. & N. Y. Ave.

RAILROADS.

BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD.

LEAVE UNION STATION.

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

"EVERY HOUR ON THE ODD HOUR."

TO PHILADELPHIA AND NEW YORK.

NEW TERMINAL, 230 STREET, NEW YORK.

7:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

8:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

9:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

10:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

11:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

12:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

1:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

2:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

3:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

4:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

5:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

6:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

7:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

8:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

9:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

10:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

11:30 p. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor

12:30 a. m. Dining, Pullman Parlor